

The US market has seen substantial year-over-year growth in the number of connected homes, and this is expected to continue in the years to come.

31%

compound annual growth rate