Built a landing page using react continuing the design inspired by the logo of the project.

Forked the main project and built the website into a personal repo with a deployed visitable version at this link.

Plan to expand with more time, the rest of the sections to then allow connection to the backend.

Linked login page that Jason worked on as a temporary functionality.

Possible paper topic: UI design and its impact on user experience